

what's on my pinboard

Leigh Taylor is the owner of SugarLove Pictures and White Designs videographers. She draws inspiration from overseas travel, Sydney beaches and the love of her family

I love the laidback sounds of my Tommy Bahama CD (left). This little padlock symbolises my need for privacy and security. My husband, Bradley, bought me this Brett Whitely lithograph called Buddha (right). It gives me a sense of calm and ease.

WEBSITES I LOVE
sugarlovepictures.com/weddings whitedesigns.com.au
marziplanner.com.au
weddinglistcompany.com.au
myislandhome.com.au
barrenjoeyhouse.com.au

A gorgeous wedding at Sydney's Nielsen Park beach (far left). Bradley and I on our wedding day in 2001. Travel candle, Balinese bracelet (above) and swizzle stick (left), remind me of overseas adventures.

Leigh Taylor, Director of SugarLove Weddings & White Designs is inspired by the ocean, sun, sand & all things tropical. Here she offers a glimpse into her city life and new showroom and home by the beach.

Bradley and my son, Maison (left), are the biggest loves of my life. This cute frame (above) is from LA. A Hawaiian hula girl bracelet (far left) was a surprise gift from a German supermodel.

